SERIES NOTES

LEADING OFF
The Chicago Dogs took one of three games against the St. Paul Saints and continue their six-game road trip by venturing to Kokomo, Ind. to take on the Milwaukee Milkmen. Game times are slated for 6:05 PM Central Time on Friday, May 24, 5:05 PM on Saturday and 12:05 PM on Sunday.

SCOUTING THE MILKMEN
The Milkmen, currently in their first season in franchise history, are 3-5 to start the year. Milwaukee dropped three of four games in Fargo against the Fargo-Moorhead RedHawks and now enter their first home series (until June 24, all home games are being played in Kokomo). Dan Ward and Cesar Valera have paced the Milkmen so far offensively — both are batting at a team-leading .286 clip, and Ward has slugged two home runs. The Dogs won both Spring Training matchups against Milwaukee earlier this month at Impact Field.

THE MEN ON THE MOUND
LHP Luke Westphal is scheduled to make his second start of 2019 in game one. On Saturday against Gary, Westphal threw 5.2 innings of no-hit ball in a game that saw Dogs pitching carry a no hitter to the final strike of the ninth inning.

RHP Trevor Simms will carry the torch into game two. In Simms' first start of 2019, he went 4.1 innings, allowing two earned runs on six hits, striking out four.

In game three, LHP Jake Dahlberg is slated for his first start of the young season. Dahlberg is a University of Illinois-Chicago alum who ranks top-five in Flames history for wins, strikeouts, starts and innings pitched.

TONY THE TERRIFIC
In the Dogs' Thursday night win in St. Paul, outfielder Tony Rosselli recorded the first three-home run game in franchise history. Rosselli blasted a three-run homer in the first inning and launched solo home runs in the third and tenth innings to power the Dogs to a 7-6, extra-innings win over the Saints. The feat was the first time in Rosselli's career — at any level — that he hit three home runs, and he also set a new Dogs mark for RBIs in a game, with five.

SECONDS, PLEASE
The Dogs combined for three home runs in the second inning of Wednesday's second game, scoring five runs and marking the second five-plus run inning of the young season, with both occurrences falling in the second inning. On Opening Night, the Dogs racked up six runs — and hit three triples — in the second inning against the Gary SouthShore RailCats. On Wednesday afternoon in St. Paul, Keon Barnum, Harrison Smith and David Olmedo-Barrera each hit home runs in the second, powering the Dogs to a 5-0 lead.

BIG Z DOES IT ALL
The Dogs made national headlines in April when the franchise signed three-time MLB All-Star Carlos Zambrano. The Venezuela native, known as "Big Z," enjoyed a fruitful major league career, which featured an 11-year tenure with the Chicago Cubs and one year with the Miami Marlins.

Following a successful debut during Opening Weekend in Chicago, Zambrano pitched two innings on Wednesday in St. Paul, allowing just one hit and no runs while striking out two batters. Through two appearances, the MLB vet is one of three Dogs pitchers who has yet to yield a run.

VETERANS OF THE SHOW
In addition to Zambrano, 2019 Dogs like D.J. Snelten and Casey Crosby have gotten a taste of the big leagues. Snelten appeared in four games in 2018 for the San Francisco Giants, while Crosby logged 12.1 innings for the Detroit Tigers back in 2012.

FIRST IS THE BEST
This year's loaded crop features two former first-round MLB draft selections. Out of high school in Tampa, FL, Keon Barnum was drafted in the first round by the Chicago White Sox in 2012. Victor Roache was originally drafted out of high school by the Detroit Tigers in the 25th round, but he elected to go to Georgia Southern University, where in 2011 he led the NCAA in home runs, with 30. Roache was drafted by the Brewers in the first round (28th overall) the next year.

GOOD TO SEE YA AGAIN
The Dogs welcomed back some of the team's top performers from 2018. Edwin Arroyo, who led the team in batting average (.325), hits (118) and walks (39), is back. Trey Vavra belted a team-high 16 home runs and drove in 65 runs. His 23 doubles also paced the Dogs.

On the mound, Rich Mascheri makes his return to Impact Field. The Western Illinois alum paced the bullpen with a 2.34 ERA and also struck out 63 batters. Brandon Shimo, who appeared in 34 games with a 2.44 ERA, is also back. Josh Goossen-Brown, who led the Dogs in innings pitched (116.2), wins (7) and starts (20), will again pitch in Rosemont.
